INFORMATIVE PLATFORMS

What is your journey in the recent past and where do you see yourself in the near future?

Looking back over the past few years, I would never have predicted that at this point in my life I'd be doing the kind of work I do. Given the change of pace these days I would not presume to say that I know what I'll be doing five years out -- but if I'm alive at that point I know I'll be working hard on something exciting, alongside smart and committed people.

Inspiring Designing Pick-Ups

Mostly people's actions and their points of view inspire me. Architects, artists, poets, musicians, composers, film directors, authors.

Link Of Government & Designing Industry, Comment!

Looking at the current scenario, government's emphasis on developing the public art and architecture is the need of the hour. The agenda we all should be working towards is creation of hazard free and healthy public spaces which make the user feel safe and comfortable. Revitalizing cityscapes and revival of our heritage is another way to achieve that agenda. Similarly, in workspaces the government is trying to ensure the physical and mental well being of the employee which makes way for conscious designing techniques for the interior designers and architects as well.

Conclude Designing Views..!

Architecture and interior design are art; therefore, require a larger bandwidth over-ridden by flair and great attention to detail to strike the perfect balance and create an everlasting impression in the minds of the users. At NCUBE we believe in a unique process driven approach which has helped the brand grow rapidly in the design space of the country, as it continues to offer an integrated platform to deliver solutions to service diverse client requirements.
